

Name _____ Date _____ Per _____

Setting Sets the Stage

The Twilight Zone series was known for the surprise endings which captured the audience's attention. Even though fans of the series knew what to expect, each episode managed to find a way to shock the viewer.

In the episode "The Monsters Are Due..." the script and the opening shots pay close attention in describing the All-American neighborhood.

Based on the details provided on pages 2 & 3, identify what were important details used to describe the All-American neighborhood of the 1950's. Identify at least 5 items.

If you were to update the screenplay and make the episode representing the All-American neighborhood of 2025, what would it look like?

Identify at least 6 key changes that you would focus attention in the opening long shots of the camera.
